IMPORTS FROM RUSSIA INCREASE BY 46%

The high dependence of imports from Russia has created a new problem for Albanian factories, which are looking for new suppliers. Albania seems to have no problems with the lack of flour in the market, but prices will rise by at least 15%. The main and most important food market in the country, wheat, is owned by Russia and Serbia, which together dominate 89,3% of it according to official INSTAT data.
